

MY GLASSY bathroom

Robert Hall's bathroom has been transformed with clever design and stunning features, including a shower wall of tobacco gold glass

Robert Hall (below, right) has lived in his three-bedroomed Ecclesall terrace house for 30 years, and recently decide he wanted a great shower.

After reading about Kevin and his in-house bathroom-designer team in Grapevine, Robert asked them to install a shower room in his attic. The problem was lack of headroom. Kevin advised Robert that the project was a non-starter.

Says Robert: "I was impressed with Kevin, and appreciated his honesty. He spent a lot of time at my house, and was very knowledgeable. So I asked him to look at altering my main bathroom to incorporate a large shower cubicle."

Kevin's design skills and his installation team's experience means they can utilise every available inch of kitchen and bathroom space which is what they did in Robert's bathroom.

Says Robert: "I went to Kevin's showroom in Crookes and he went through all his design ideas - which I really liked. I did not get any other quotes because Kevin obviously knew what he was talking about. I liked the fact that his people could undertake every aspect of the work."

Kevin and his team offer a hassle-free kitchen and bathroom service from design through to completion, including all plumbing, plastering, tiling, electrical work and remedial building alterations.

Kevin transformed Robert's bathroom by installing a stunning contemporary bathroom suite with integral bath and concealed cistern, which are built into a travertine tile design.

The sink is off the floor, with a large mirror above which enhances the feeling of space, as well as making cleaning a lot easier.

Robert wanted a good shower with a large cubicle, so Kevin built one in the corner of the room which included stunning tobacco gold glass instead of tiles. The shower has a powerful spider-shaped rose, and separate hand held shower attachment, ideal for cleaning the inside of Robert's large shower.

The room is further enhanced with a large mirror fitted to the wall, and shaving points concealed at the side of the basin for ease of use. Durable Celtic slate Karndeian flooring was fitted, and the room was made cosy with a large wall-hung towel rail and separate radiator positioned to maximise space. The project was finished on schedule in two weeks.

Says Robert "The room looks great. I liked with the way the bathroom was designed and installed. Kevin is a genuine guy who has great ideas which look even better in reality. Everyone who worked on my bathroom was fantastic."
